March 22

Dear

Please excuse my tardiness in responding to your request to be matched with a learner immediately following the March 10th and 11th Tutor Training. I have been ill and unable to respond in a timely manner. I do apologize.

Ms. , at this time I do not believe that Opportunity to Read is a good match for you. We are a totally learner centered adult literacy program that relies on the generosity of our volunteer tutors to help make a difference in our community. Unfortunately, it has been brought to my attention that perhaps the Inspired Learning Guidelines and the principles of complete acceptance are not in accordance with your own values. The ability to accept new guidelines and demonstrate them in interactions with others is a critical piece of the tutor role.

I wish you all the best in your endeavors to secure employment and believe that your multiple talents will be better utilized with another volunteer opportunity. Thank you for your interest in Opportunity to Read.

Sincerely,

Toni A. Notar
Literacy Outreach Coordinator
