

Hello there!

We're getting in touch today to let you know about the next upcoming tutor training. We hope you will be able to join us but also know that it has been some time since we last heard from you expressing your interest in becoming a volunteer tutor – over a year, can you believe it? Time sure does seem to fly sometimes!

Perhaps it has been a matter of timing that just hasn't been right. If so, please know we perfectly understand, and would welcome hearing from you again in the future when you are in a better position to join us.

For now, unless we hear otherwise from you, we will go ahead and remove you from our contact list and will look forward to your getting in touch with us again.

We'd be happy to hear from you! Please give us a call at (888)538-7198 or send along an email to literacy@buttecounty.net.

Thanks so much for your interest!
With our best wishes for you,

Your friends in Literacy
